My Word!
Dorothy
Simmons

A COMPULSIVE communicator finds it difficult to resist an invitation to communicate. The big problem will be keeping in touch with what's going on in Albany since I'm still in Oakland. Send your human interest items to 729 Evelyn or call 524-6158 evenings and weekends.

HAVE YOU heard about those silly "donkey" calls many of us received after midnight recently? The phone phreak must have just seen "Godfather" because he wanted to report a dead donkey on his lawn. In my call, he wanted to be sure it was printed in the Times. He apparently wanted members of the City Council and a peculiar assortment of private citizens harassed with this ridiculous news and accused (depending upon whom he was calling) daughters of two councilmen of perpetrating the dastardly deed. At least one of us received a second call. Careful, young man, your voice is beginning to register. Police Chief Jim Simmons is investigating.

IF AT FIRST... Congratulations to the hard-working school bonds committee, who finally succeeded in their efforts

Soroptimists Offer Adult Scholarship

A $100 scholarship is being offered to an Albany woman by the Soroptimist Club of Albany to help develop her career potential or aid in her plans to re-enter the world of work. Mature women, who are not Soroptimists or graduate students, needing vocational or technical training to meet the changing demands of the employment field, re-enter the job market, or up-grade their skills for advancement in their respective careers are eligible to apply.

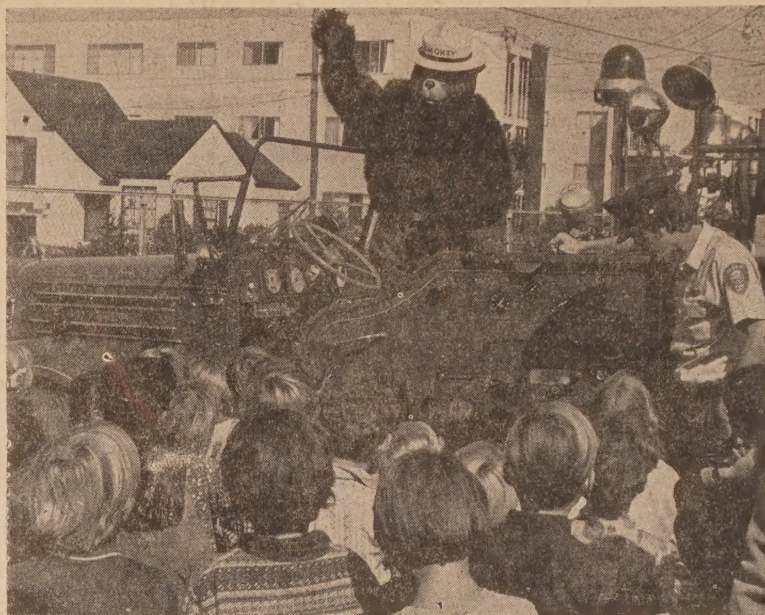

Judging will be on the following: need, past performance, education and job accomplishments; goals, improvement of status, references, and community interest.

Applications may be obtained from Soroptimist Club president, Grace Dinsdale, at the Albany High School Counselors' office, 603 Key Route Blvd., Albany, 525-7131.

Deadline for applying has been set for December 21. The winner will be announced sometime in February, 1974.

NORTHBRAE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Northbrae Woman's Club will meet on Wednesday, November 21 at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Fred J. Markham, 2614 Warring Street. The theme of the meeting is Thanksgiving. On November 26, Miss Mimi Lupo, Coloratura Soprano, will be the guest of the club. A tea will follow the 1:30 program.

ALBANY SCHOOL CHILDREN were surprised and delighted by a visit from their old friend "Smoky the Bear," who talked with them at great lengths about fires, both good and bad, and how to protect themselves. Smoky was very happy with the response he received from the children, and hopes he can pay a return visit to Albany very soon. Smoky's chauffeur, pictured here with him at MacGregor School, was Albany Fireman Michael Blackwell. Captain Ray Gonsalves of the Albany Fire Prevention Bureau and Fireman Michael Williams also accompanied the visitor.

Energy Crisis Forces New Postal Service Deadlines

Because of the energy crisis, Postmaster General E. T. Klassen urges Americans to post their domestic and foreign Christmas mail one to two weeks earlier than the Postal Service originally recommended.

"The urgency of the fuel energy crisis compels us to request a one week advancement of the suggested dates we gave for domestic mail and a two week advancement for foreign mail," Mr. Klassen said. "Reductions in the number of evening and early morning scheduled airline flights is of particular concern to the Postal Service," Mr. Klassen continued. "The Christmas season is a time when large volumes of long distance mail travels by air. So far, reductions in flights have not interfered with service standards. But further reductions, particularly during the Christmas season, may give us cause for concern."

The new deadline for posting domestic first-class Christmas mail is December 8. Domestic surface parcels should be mailed by December 3. Airmail parcels and letters within the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii) should now be posted no later than December 15. On the international scene, airmail greetings and parcels to Armed Forces in Canada, Greenland, Labrador, Newfoundland, the Congo, Liberia, and the Azores should be sent by November 24. Airmail greetings and parcels to Armed Forces in European countries should be posted by November 27. November 29 is the new date for international air parcels to Canada and Mexico and for international air cards to Africa, the Near East, and the Far East. The date for sending international air greetings to Europe, Central and South America is December 2, and greetings by air to Canada and Mexico should be sent no later than December 4.

Albany Ex-Mayor Kathy Zahn Dies

Ex-Mayor of Albany Kathie Zahn is dead at 74. She died November 9.

Mrs. Zahn arrived in Albany in 1929 from her native Germany with her husband, the late Dr. Victor Zahn, an oil company chemist, and their three children. She became involved in civic programs such as the city drive against trichinosis. In 1946 and 1948 she made unsuccessful bids for a city council seat.

In 1950 Mrs. Zahn was elected to the council and re-elected in 1954 and 1958. She became Mayor in 1960.

During her 11-year stay on the council, she was frequently at odds with fellow council members and Albany citizens.

Mrs. Zahn remained active in the community even after her political career ended.

She is survived by a son, Egon V. Zahn of Richmond; two daughters, Mrs. Jutta Hardin of Albany, and Mrs. Astrid Strange of Vallejo; and nine grandchildren.

The private family services were held at the Sunset View Mortuary, Berkeley.

Better Parkland is Goal For Saturday's Albany Hill Walk

A walk on Albany Hill sponsored by the newly formed Citizens for Better Parkland will be held on Saturday, November 24 at 11 a.m. The walk will start at 899 Hillside Avenue, at the intersection of Taft Street. It will be held rain or shine. Highlights will include pointing out the 1.1 acres of land formerly owned by Councilman Herbert Call which was sold to JGC for a quarter of a million dollars for use as a public park, and examining other land which might be available for park use. Bring the whole family. Everyone's invited.

Citizens For Better Parkland Organized In Albany Thursday

By DOROTHY LARIMER

A group of Albany residents, estimated at between 40 and 60 people, organized themselves as Citizens for a Better Parkland at Cornell School last Thursday night and invited city residents to join them on a tour of the Albany Hill park situated on property owned by Councilman H. F. Call this Saturday, Nov. 24, beginning at 11 a.m. at the home of Herbert Rubin.

The group will hold its next meeting Thursday, Nov. 29, at a place to be announced, to decide formally what action they will take to attempt to get back $258,000 paid to Call by Interstate General Corporation (IGC) and have it invested in what they feel is more suitable parkland higher on the hill.

Attorney Milton Nason, who said he had no experience in conflict of interest laws but quite a bit in real estate, said his research showed that the law is quite clear that a councilman cannot have financial interest in a contract by the city and is, in fact, guilty of a felony if he does so. It does not matter, Nason said, if the price is fair, if the official abstained or if he acted in good faith. Quoting from a San Bernardino case he said the court found it is all right to make a gift to the city if it does not benefit a city official. He said the remedy would be that the city would declare the contract void, go to court and recover the money from Councilman Call or the development corporation.

Several people who attended spoke on behalf of Councilman Call. One said this group had no right to tell the developer how to spend his money, indicating it was a private transaction. Others in the audience vehemently disagreed, stating it was on behalf of the citizens and therefore of public concern.

Arguing against the charge that the price paid Call ($234,000 an acre for 1.1 acres) was "outrageous," Real Estate Broker Mrs. Martha Hood said she had a prospective buyer for Call's property at $385,000 two years ago, but the deal fell through when the buyer could not obtain financing. She said if anyone can get the property listed, she would help sell it for much more than $258,000.

Although various members of the group kept reminding others at the meeting that they were together only in the interests of obtaining a better park for the citizens of Albany, there were definite political overtones. Attorney Louis Bell outlined legal requirements for a Recall Election, the lengths of terms of all councilmen were reported and the group looked forward to next April's election, when terms of two Albany City Councilmen (Mayor Lewis Howell and Councilman Joe Carlevaro) expire. They talked of a Charter amendment limiting councilmen to two consecutive four-year terms.

Beryl Hartman chaired the meeting, stating it was called to look for suggestions and opinions and to explore the possibilities available to the public in getting a better park.

Attorney Herbert Rubin (who was accused by Jean Rutherford of being upset because he wanted IGC to purchase his property for the park) outlined the history of the Albany Park transaction, stating he first became aware of it when he saw an item in the Times reporting a City Council agenda item that the city would receive $2,000 of the $600,000 IGC had allocated for a park on Albany Hill. He asked where the $598,000 had gone and the investigation began. The Call property, he said, is not suitable for a park because much of it is steep and inaccessible.

Property on the crest of the hill is wooded, overlooks the Bay and is far more suitable for a public park, he said.

Atty. General Issues Hints For Consumers

State Attorney General Evelle J. Younger has issued a series of hints for the consumer.

The official has particularly warned against vacation certificates or so-called "complimentary accommodations." He said, "Many such programs are unlawful and have commonly resulted in economic loss to participating consumers. Misrepresentations concerning the quality and availability of accommodations are common, and many require payment of undisclosed charges."

A helpful hint for shoppers is the Attorney General's advice on meat packaging. "Consumers should be concerned with labeling, contents, and freshness," he said. "All labels should be read to know what your money is being spent on."

Mr. Younger also provided information on loan interest rates in his recent announcement. The California Constitution fixes the rate of interest on a loan at 7 percent per year," he said. "However, it allows the lender and borrower to contract for a rate of interest up to 10 percent per year. State law allows a seller to charge an annual rate of up to 18.46 percent simple interest on a retail installment contract. On credit card purchases, a seller may charge an annual rate of up to 18 percent. Loan companies can also charge high interest rates, up to 30 percent in some cases."

The Attorney General emphasized that public demand is responsible for consumer legislation. "If you believe that there are necessary consumer laws lacking in the State, please write my office," he said. The address is Attorney General's Office, Consumer Help, 555 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, CA 95814.

BART Extends Hours During Holidays

The Bay Area Rapid Transit District will remain in operation two additional hours each weekday evening between Thanksgiving and Christmas to accommodate holiday shoppers and store employees, BART General Manager B. R. Stokes announced.

On Friday, November 23, BART trains will begin to run at 10-minute intervals from 6 a.m. until 10 p.m. This will continue through Monday, December 24. Final trains each day will wait to begin their last trips from terminal stations until all stations on the line have been closed at 10 p.m., so last-minute patrons need not fear being left behind. For now, BART continues to be closed on weekends.

Stokes said that BART intends to promote its multiple-ride tickets as "the solution to the perennial problem of what to give for Christmas." Such tickets remain valid indefinitely until their value is used up.

Regular-fare tickets in any value up to $20 can be bought at any one of BART's 32 currently operating stations.

Children's Home Society Previews Doll Festival

The Children's Home Society preview of the 22nd annual Doll Festival will include a holiday home tour, boutique, and tea on Thursday, November 29 from noon to 4 p.m.

Three Piedmont houses—the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Arno G. Thies III, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thibault Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. John C. Weaver Jr., will be on tour for the first time. Each home and garden is uniquely interesting and beautifully maintained.

The Victorian Christmas Bazaar will be held in the Guild Hall of the Piedmont Community Church, 400 Highland Avenue, Piedmont. It will feature Christmas boutique gifts.

From 2 to 4 p.m. tea and homemade cookies will be served in the church hall where over 150 dolls, new and antique, dressed by members of Children's Home Society and employees of the Oakland Union Bank, will be on display for viewing and Christmas giving.

General Chairman is Mrs. Thomas C. McGee of San Leandro. Assisting her is Mrs. C. Allen Stocks, Doll Chairman; Mrs. Joseph De Young, Ticket Chairman; Mrs. Richard Meisner, Hostess Chairman; Mrs. Willi Daniel, Refreshment Chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Salling, gourmet foods Chairman.

Tickets at $3.50 may be purchased.

chased through area chairmen, at the homes on the tour, or at Piedmont Community Church.

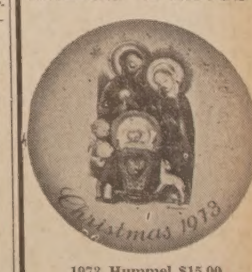

The Doll Festival itself will be held at the Oakland Regional Head Office of the sponsoring Union Bank, 16th Street and San Pablo Avenue, and at the Hegenberger Branch of the Union Bank from Monday, December 3 to Friday, December 14. Dolls will be on sale weekdays during banking hours.

All proceeds will benefit Children's Home Society of California, the oldest and largest private adoption and counseling agency in California.

Energy Conservation Save $$ On Home Heating Costs

Enjoy indoor comfort during the heating season while saving fuel and reducing heating bills. For most families, heating is the largest cost item in operating a home. Users of liquefied petroleum gas for home heating—or propane as it's also called—can easily save fuel and heating dollars by doing some practical home winterizing.

The best way to prevent winter cold from robbing your heating budget is to take steps to keep more heat inside your home. Warm air leaking to the outdoors and cold air filtering in can cause your heating costs to go up as much as 30 percent.

Start your LP-gas saving campaign by searching out loose-fitting windows and doors, and other cracks where heat can escape. Then apply weatherstripping and caulking where needed. These are simple and inexpensive remedies.

Storm windows and doors will pay for themselves in lower heating costs within 10 years, even less where winters are severe. The air barrier provided by properly fitting storm windows will cut in half heat needlessly lost through windows in your house. Leave storm windows on in summer if your home is air-conditioned.

They effectively keep more cool air in your home in summer just as they prevent heat loss in winter.

If your home lacks overhead and sidewall insulation, this too may be a wise investment in greater comfort and lowering heating costs. Consult your propane-gas dealer or heating contractor for advice.

You can save LP-gas by setting the thermostat at the desired temperature and leaving it there. Constant thermostat changing wastes fuel and adds nothing to your comfort. And don't overheat! Heating costs go up significantly for every degree over 70°.

The operating efficiency of your gas heating equipment is highly important in saving fuel and reducing heating costs. It pays to have your heating equipment inspected annually by a trained service professional.

Questions on Your Family's Move...

answered by Alice Bowman
Home Moving Consultant
Allied Van Lines, Inc.

Dear Miss Bowman: We will have the chance to make one house-hunting trip before our move to Los Angeles. Any suggestions? Mrs. J. H., Greenwich, Conn.

ANSWER: Make a checklist that includes neighborhood facilities as well as what you want in a house. Things to look for include the availability of good schools and complete shopping centers, auto traffic patterns, play areas for children, adult recreational facilities, and cultural opportunities such as theaters and museums. Another point to consider might be the possibility of future major construction. For example, a new apartment complex could cause overcrowding of community facilities and services. Nearby highway construction could affect future property values. And finally, don't hunt for a house on a weekend. Realtors can spend much more time helping you during the middle of the week on your one precious trip.

Dear Miss Bowman: We are being relocated overseas. Where do I start? Mrs. J. K., Elmhurst, Ill.

ANSWER: Such major household goods moving companies as Allied Van Lines International Corporation take care of all the details—packing, arranging for shipping, customs paperwork, and so on—all under one bill of lading on a door-to-door basis. Thus, in some ways, a move overseas can be as easy as a move within the United States. One point to consider: Think of all the things that are "normal" to your family's life, but which might not be available in a foreign country, such as piano sheet music, paints and canvases, needlepoint materials, even a wading pool. You might want to purchase extra supplies of such items before leaving for that exciting foreign destination.

Timely Lessons For Our Young Area Bicyclists

By JOHN T. FORD,
Albany Police Dept.
Bicycle Detail

Riding your bike in the country can be one of the most enjoyable adventures of biking. Before going on a bike trip in the country, it is wise to "check-out" all mechanical functions of your bicycle and make sure that everything is working in good order. If you don't do this, you may find yourself stranded a long way from home. Remember, even the captain of an airliner checks out his plane before taking off, because he knows that he is responsible for anything that may happen to it, himself, and others food for an outdoor lunch; a raincoat; a tent if they plan to be out over night; or other things of use on a trip. Anything you wish to take with you should be wrapped and carried on the back luggage carrier of your bike, and securely strapped down. This is to prevent the possibility of loose items getting tangled in the rear wheel of the bike chain.

When selecting the route you will take for your trip avoid highways you know are very busy. Of course, never travel on an interstate highway, as bicycles are not allowed on them.

Now, even though you are traveling on a highway that is not very busy, you must remain just as alert as you are when you are riding in city streets. ALL traffic signals MUST still be obeyed. STOP signs still mean STOP, and do not fail to heed them. Think of it this way: if there is very little traffic and you are approaching a country stop sign and you see no cars coming from either direction and you proceed through who may be flying with him. Often when boys and girls go biking in the country they want to take along some supplies: the stop intersection without stopping you are still taking a big chance. A car could easily come up over a hill, from one of the other directions, and if it were moving at high speed, it could be at the intersection in a few seconds.

The main thing to remember in country biking is that cars are traveling at higher speeds by far than they are in the city. This means you must be extra cautious that you are riding WITH traffic, staying to the extreme right side of the road. Often you will see people on bikes riding on the far left side of the road, directly toward the oncoming traffic. This is WRONG! It is very dangerous. Do not do it!

If the weather becomes dark and cloudy, use your lights. Don't wait for it to become completely dark... a fast-moving car needs several hundred feet to see you! Make sure that you have on light colored clothing for all country riding.

Never, under any circumstances, ride in the middle of the road or do bike trick-riding in the country on the highway. There are too many hills and valleys that could hide an approaching car from your vision, and you from the driver's vision.

In country riding there are

Mail Order Guidelines Given For Shoppers Buying By Mail

In an effort to avoid the Christmas shopping crowds many people have turned to shopping by mail. The Department of Consumer Affairs urges all consumers to be conscientious when shopping by mail.

Before ordering from a catalogue, check with the local Better Business Bureau to see if the company is still in operation. If the company has closed, filed bankruptcy, or is in financial difficulty the bureau will often know.

Photographs or advertising claims can be misleading. Read the description. It should provide enough information to judge quality and compare the product to others. If it does not, consumers should beware of purchasing the product.

When ordering, specify the item wanted by color, size, quantity, and list any item which can be accepted as a substitute.

Orders should be sent early. Check the order to see if there is a guaranteed delivery date. If merchandise cannot be accepted after a certain date specify it on the order.

Open a package as soon as it arrives and check for damage or mistaken items. Many companies have 10-30 day deadlines for return. If sending gifts directly to another party be sure to ask if they arrived and in good condition. Always pay by check, money order or credit card. Do not send cash.

If a problem arises and letters to companies go unanswered, contact the Department of Consumer Affairs, Division of Consumer Services, 1020 N Street, Sacramento, or to the local Better Business Bureau.

many occasions when you will want to stop and rest. Do your resting well back from the highway. A speeding car could go out of control and go off the road quite easily, and if you were sitting right at the edge of the roadway you could be hit.

When you are riding in a group of other bicyclists, always ride SINGLE FILE! Never ride side by side. Many bicyclists have been killed because they did not obey this rule for safe country biking.

QUESTIONS

Yes No

When riding in the country you can forget about traffic rules if there are very few cars on the road.

Riding INTO traffic on the left side of the road, is safe in the country.

When riding in a group of bicyclists, you should always ride in single file.

One big reason you must be especially careful in the country is because cars are traveling at higher speeds than in the city.

It is OK to do trick riding way out in the country, if you don't see anyone coming.

ROTC Accepting Scholarship Applications

Army ROTC is inviting applications between now and December 1, 1973 for 1,000 four-year scholarships. High school seniors may apply for these grants, which pay the full cost of tuition, textbooks, lab fees, and other educational expenses, as well as the cost of the winners' first trips from home to school.

Over and above the purely educational expenses, the scholarships also provide a subsistence allowance of $100 a month for up to 10 months of the school year.

Need is not a factor in the granting of Army ROTC scholarships. They are awarded strictly on the basis of merit—such as involvement in extra-curricular activities, which demonstrate applicant's leadership potential as well as his academic achievement.

Interested young men and women in their senior year should arrange to take the Scholastic Achievement Tests or American College Tests without delay. The awards will be made next spring and will take effect in the school year beginning September of 1974.

To find out more about the scholarships and their requirements write: Army ROTC Scholarships, Dept. AG, P.O. Box 12703, Philadelphia, Pa., 19134 before December 1.

LAW IN ACTION

SPECIAL CASES

"Arrest me? Just because I'm late with my payment to the old lady?" It's a real arrest, all right, and not a few recent husbands have felt the stern grip of the law on their quivering shoulders. It's not a crime to marry. Nor even to un-marry, whether by formal divorce suit or a one-way walk from the house. But where a man fails to pay support as ordered to his wife and children—he may find himself in the slammer.

Here he has not committed a crime. He has merely neglected to pay over money. Yet he goes to jail anyway. This is because he's committed contempt of court—by refusing to obey a court order.

There are other acts that may be punished as contempt of court. Interfere with the administration of justice, or fail to show up as a witness, and the court may punish by fine or jail. A civil contempt does not merit a jury trial. It is hard to challenge the judge's ruling. The punishment may be five days in jail and a $500 fine.

There may also be a criminal contempt. This can carry up to six months in jail. In a regular criminal contempt charge, the person does have all the rights of a trial, defense by an attorney and of appeal.

A forfeiture proceeding is a civil proceeding. But it may be based on a criminal act. Officials may seize a car used in a crime, or one used to transport contraband, narcotics, weapons or illegal goods.

Abatement proceedings, too, may involve crime. The government may close down a building if it has been used for gambling, prostitution, or other illegal activities. The proceeding is civil. However, proof of illegal acts there may involve criminal evidence.

All juvenile court hearings are civil. A minor charged with a violation is entitled to all the rights of a criminal defendant. This includes the right to counsel, to confront witnesses, and freedom from self-incrimination. Yet the judgment of the court is civil, not criminal.

Escheat cases are civil. These are cases where there is unclaimed property, estates without lawful heirs, or property abandoned in public areas. The state may bring suit all the rights of a trial, de-

Note of Thanks

The Albany Parent Nursery School wishes to express its thanks to the many local businesses for their generous donations which made the recent Halloween fund raising carnival a big success.

A special thanks is also extended to Mr. Dowling of the University Village Housing Office and Mr. Don Dupin, recreation director for the Albany Parks and Recreation Department for their generous help and support.

Father Parnell McCarthy, Pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic Church in El Cerrito, will be the special guest of the Albany Scroptimist Club's Thanksgiving luncheon meeting, Wed., Nov. 21, at 12:15 p.m., at Serb's Restaurant, 1045 San Pablo Ave.

May Ellis-Olson will be chairman of the day, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

This Sunday will be observed as World Fellowship Offering Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Under the theme "Give Them Christ—Give Them Tomorrow" there will be an offering received for the work of overseas missions under the Board of International Ministries of the American Baptist Church in the U.S.A. Each fall this special offering is received in the 6000 churches of the American Baptist denomination. Not only does this raise hundreds of thousands of dollars, but it provides an opportunity for congregations to learn more about the mission work of the denomination. For the 11 a.m. service the message by Pastor Campbell will be "Give Them Christ." The Senior Choir will sing and Nursery Care will be provided. Sunday School meets prior to the service at 9:45 a.m.

At the 7:00 p.m. hour the subject will be "On My Way." The theme will be the growing awareness of the church that it is the body of Christ. The Youth Choir will be singing at the evening service.

"New" Old-Fashioned Chicken Dishes

Old-fashioned chicken dishes, such as "Savory Chicken En Papillote", were favorites in grandma's day and they're still popular with today's generation of cooks. New and easier ways of preparing these all-time favorites are now available in a collection of "Old-Fashioned Chicken Dishes".

"Savory Chicken En Papillote", for instance, takes the old-fashioned French chef's method of cooking en papillote (food deliciously seasoned and oven-braised in a "butterfly" of parchment) and makes it easy for today's homemaker by substituting Alcoa Wrap as the papillote.

With all the recipes in the folder, old-fashioned dishes take on new style and flair. For your copy of the free chicken recipe folder, send a postcard to "Old-Fashioned Chicken Dishes", Wear-Ever Kitchens, Wear-Ever Aluminum, Inc., Chillicothe, Ohio 45601.

SAVORY CHICKEN EN PAPILOTE

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1/4 cup wild rice, raw | 4 tablespoons butter or margarine |
| 1/2 cup regular rice, raw | 2 whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts, halved |
| 2 cups boiling water | 1/2 cup Rose wine |
| 4 chicken bouillon cubes | Paprika |
| 1 4-ounce can chopped mushrooms, drained | 4 slices lemon |
| Dash pepper | |
| 1/4 teaspoon basil leaves | |

Combine wild rice, regular rice, water, bouillon cubes in 2-quart sauce pan; bring to boil; cover; simmer 10 minutes over low heat. Remove pan from heat; remove cover; allow rice to stand at least 5-10 minutes, or until part of liquid has been absorbed. Add mushrooms, pepper, basil; mix thoroughly. Place rice mixture in center of four 12x15-inch double thick sheets of heavy duty aluminum foil; dot with butter. Place chicken breasts on top of rice; pour 2 tablespoons wine over each; sprinkle with paprika; top with lemon slice. Close package carefully to avoid spilling wine; use tight double folds over top and each end. Place foil packages on rack in shallow pan. Bake 1 1/4 hours at 425°F. To serve: Slip foil across top; push down around rice.

KATHIE ZAHN is dead and I, for one, mourn her passing. She was what she was and made no bones about it. She may have been one of the original women's libbers. Despite her tactics, she firmly believed that what she did was in the best interests of Albany and long after she was no longer on the Council, she took a keen interest in everything they did at City Hall. Over a series of months, we became friends during her regular Tuesday morning telephone calls to the Times. At first, she would hang up when she had heard the news. Later she would give some warning that she was about to hang up, but still would not say goodbye. We progressed to her saying, "Bye, Bye" to "Bye, Bye Dorsey," to "Bye, Bye, Dorsey, honey." She had a hilarious sense of humor. I enjoyed her. Bye, bye, Kathie.

EVER HEARD of a bride singing at her own wedding? Lorrene Baum pre-recorded "Funny," a goose-bumpy song, to be played as she and her bridegroom, Phil Davis, stood facing each other at the altar. Also singing on tape was Helen Baum, Lorrene's mother. Her songs, played before and during the ceremony, included "Sunrise, Sunset," "Til There Was You," and "When I Fall in Love."

AC Transit Asks For Larger Diesel Fuel Allotment

AC Transit is taking steps to boost its allotment of diesel fuel to take care of the increasing number of people switching from cars to public transit. The allotment, set by Shell Oil Co., the system's supplier, is based on the amount of fuel used by district buses in 1972. It does not take into consideration an additional million annual miles of service added for BART or an increase in ridership.

Transbay bus riding is up over 10 percent compared to a year ago, while riding on buses in the East Bay is up over five percent, continuing a trend which began in June.

AC Transit estimates it needs an additional 30,000 gallons of fuel in November, beyond the 432,600 gallons allocated by Shell, Alan L. Bingham, general manager, said.

The transit executive said AC Transit has filed an application with the new Oil and Gas office of the U.S. Department of Interior in San Francisco to increase the allotment and also is asking Shell to review its figures, which differ from district invoices as to amounts of fuel delivered in 1972.

Bingham said the transit property expected to operate all bus service required.

"In the face of the energy crisis, it is more important than ever to furnish public transit that is convenient, pleasant, economical, and fully adequate," Bingham reported.

Meanwhile, in an effort to conserve fuel, AC Transit has imposed a restriction of 55 miles an hour on use of district supervisory automobiles, except in cases of emergency.

Buses already are scheduled to operate at a maximum of 50 miles an hour on freeways and on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Stepped up enforcement was ordered on regulations restricting bus engine idling time and on a "lights out" policy when district offices are secured for the day.

BRONCHITIS

Chronic bronchitis, emphysema and similar lung conditions kill an estimated 36,000 Americans each year and disable more than a million others. Christmas Seal contributions to the Lung Association of Alameda County will help lower these figures.

Receives Promotion John A. Prescott

Albany resident John A. Prescott has been promoted to officer at Bank of America San Pablo office, it was announced by Manager William E. Hasse.

A native of Chelsea, Massachusetts, Prescott, 27, joined the bank in 1969 as a part-time clerk at the Berkeley main office.

After graduating from University of California Berkeley in 1972, Prescott worked the bank full time at San Francisco.

Prescott and his wife, Joy, are parents of a daughter.

Long-time resident of Albany Stanley Dean Wilkins, animal and human nutritional expert, died at 86.

After receiving training in poultry science at the University of Cornell, Mr. Wilkins became an instructor in the department of agriculture at the University of California at Davis. In 1908, he was responsible for the building of the first poultry houses and laboratory at Davis.

Mr. Wilkins left Davis and returned to the University of Minnesota and earned a degree in chemistry. He did research at the University of Minnesota.

ta's Division of Poultry Husbandry and their section on Nutrition. In 1920 he published as senior author along with R. A. Dutcher an article on "Limberneck," a poultry ailment, in the Journal of the Veterinary Medical Association.

Mr. Wilkins was a long-time resident of Albany and a regular attendant of the city council meetings. At his request no services were held.

Presiding Judge For 1974 Chosen

Judge George Brunn has been elected Presiding Judge of the Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court for the year 1974 by his fellow judges, it was announced today by current presiding judge, James Holstrom.

Judge Brunn was appointed to the bench in 1966 and has served as presiding judge on several occasions, most recently in 1970. He is a graduate of Stanford University and Stanford Law School and lives in Berkeley with his wife, Ruth, and two children, Tracy, 13, and Scott, 12. The children attend local public schools.

The Times prints more news about Albany people than any other newspaper.

Good News For Graduates

It doesn't take long for the high school graduate looking for his first job to become disillusioned. Most good jobs require a post-high school education... and that extra education requires money. To help the student get extra schooling, a government/private enterprise has been formed to expand the money available for student loans. Called "Sallie Mae" (or, more formally, the Student Loan Marketing Association), it gives schools and banks the backing to make more loans. And the university-bound student isn't the only one eligible for help. "Sallie Mae" gives loans for vocational/technical studies, too. Right On, Sallie Mae!

Triple Taxation

The person who invests in our economy by purchasing stocks plays more than his share of tax. First, if a corporation of which he is part owner earns money, those earnings are taxed at 48%. If he is paid a dividend, he also pays tax on the dividend at ordinary income rates. Third, if he sells his stock and realizes a capital gain, the gain is taxed at up to 35%. And because two-thirds of the U.S. investors have taxable incomes of less than $15,000 annually, it follows that a still higher tax on capital gains would be penalizing the working man, not the rich. National Loss to Weeds Enormous

"Weed control in this country is a big problem because of the losses it causes and the cost of control," said R. S. Dunham, professor emeritus, University of Minnesota. Weeds cost farmers and the agriculture business more than $7.5 billion last year. One of the "tools" helping the farmer win the food/weed struggle is modern herbicides. Without these weed controlling chemicals the loss to farmers would be many times greater which would be reflected in higher prices at the supermarket.

The Other Paris

You needn't be under 21 to enjoy an inexpensive vacation in Paris. Two-thirds of Paris' hotels are in the budget class. And the food, fantastique! Explore the Left Bank restaurants for moderately-priced gourmet treats. To really appreciate the City of Light, become a flâneur (stroller). A peek at the book-stalls along the Seine, open-air food and flea markets, parks bursting with flowers and much more are all free. Feel like a romantic splurge for just $80? Wander through the Louvre on a Friday evening. Now, who said Paris was expensive?
